Your Story:

Hermana as I call her was my Spanish teacher, basketball moderator, neighbor and a friend for life! I consider her family. We had a strong bond at ICHS and that bond continues today. She always carried and talked about her ministry while being considered one of the "cool nuns". Very approachable. You know you would receive a loving answer even if it was a difficult topic. She was friendly to all the students, but mostly the basketball team. We made an everlasting connection through that experience. I call her Hermana, not only because she taught me Spanish, but because I consider her part of my soul and part of my heart for the love she has always shown me throughout my life. She helped shape me into the person I am today.
