DOLORES

D

Dedication as a teenager, she decided to become a Catholic...

She decided to become a religious and enter a religious congregation to be trained in healthcare; 11 years as lab technician in Trinitas and 24 years as a Physician Assistant at St. Joseph's.

Dedication to the Little Flower.

O

Organized, not so much, but when she did it it was for a purpose, for example when she was cooking or gardening.

L

Love of family and friends and was generous to a fault. She had a big heart sharing herself in many ways. She lived life to the fullest.

She donated to every cause which was why in our house she received the most solicitation letters.

O

Speaking of mail, she ordered from almost every catalog.

R

She had a deep respect for all people, which was how she cared for those in the Emergency Department, especially the poor and the elderly.

E

She was full of energy, especially when she made up her mind – look out! She was going to get something done – NOW, like rearranging the furniture in her bedroom or in the TV room.

S

She was a good storyteller. On St. Patrick's Day she often told people she was an Irish citizen, born off the coast of Skibbereen....and people believed her!

She enjoyed sharing about her Chinese culture. This was obvious at Lunar New Year when she hosted her annual Chinese New Year, cooking all the various dishes. The party grew larger every year until her friend, Sr. Edna told her, "This is enough! No more cooking for Chinese New Year." That didn't stop her from cooking Chinese dishes for the local community.

Sister Dolores faced many healthcare challenges and almost always bounced back from each one of them. But on July 24th, she heard Jesus call her name and she followed him.

We know her spirit will always be with us.
